

From $6 A Night To An American Classic

(NAPSA)—To celebrate its 40th anniversary, a leading motel chain has gone whole hog, offering a contest with the grand prize of a Harley Davidson motorcycle.

Then: In 1962, in Santa Barbara, Calif., the first real budget motel designed for the no-frills traveler opened its doors. The establishment offered clean, comfortable rooms for just $6 a night. Fittingly, the new business was named Motel 6.

Now: The single motel has grown into a chain of more than 800 locations throughout the U.S. and around Toronto. Visitors enjoy such guest amenities as free morning coffee, free HBO and ESPN, free local calls and more. The company also offers:

• Pools and guest laundries at most locations;

• A 10 percent discount for AARP members;

• Computer dataports; and

• A pet-welcome policy. Unless prohibited by state law or ordinance, visitors may bring one small pet per room. Pets must be declared during guest registration, and be attended at all times.

• Free cribs for families traveling with small children;

"The American Classic Getaway" contest, which will run from July 1 to September 3, 2002, gives customers a chance to win great prizes, including three
