

Skin Sense

Protecting Skin Naturally

(NAPSA)—When you think of milk, chances are you think of cows. But goat's milk—which is rich in nutrients—is consumed by more people than any other type of milk.

However, goat's milk is also an extremely effective moisturizing ingredient due to a unique protein structure that makes it easily absorbed by the skin. Now you can find a variety of goat's milk products on sites such as www.canusgoatsmilk.com.

It features over 60 moderately priced products for adults and children. They include goat's milk lotion (developed to bring the natural moisturizing properties of fresh goat's milk to a body lotion) and soaps with essential oils, proteins and vitamins that are easily absorbed by the skin while naturally soothing dry skin. No wonder dermatologists recommend goat's milk for skin conditions such as eczema and psoriasis. There's even body butter and foaming milk bath, all made with goat's milk.

Goat's milk soap can help naturally relieve inflammation.

You can also find Canus products in drugstores and specialty stores, and at www.drugstore.com, cvs.com and amazon.com. For more information, visit www.canusgoatsmilk.com.