

Making Money Online

(NAPSA)—Is it possible to earn $24,000 in 24 hours? Some people do, says a New York Times best-selling author in a new book, Multiple Streams Of Internet Income: How Ordinary People Make Extraordinary Money Online (Wiley, $24.95), by Robert G. Allen.

A new book provides strategies, techniques and visual tools that hopeful entrepreneurs can use to achieve wealth.

Allen teaches readers how to create cash flow via the Internet; even non-tech minded people can benefit.

From his vast experience and simple yet powerful systems, he offers step-by-step tips on how to:

- Earn profits in just one hour—starting from scratch;
- Double current “off line” businesses by going online;
- Launch an Internet business in hours—not in days or weeks;
- Deliver a marketing message to consumers faster, cheaper and easier;
- Operate a business from any telephone in the world;
- Drive traffic to your site and get people to “beg” for products;
- Turn junk into cash with auctions;
- Make advertising pay for you.

Multiple Streams of Internet Income is available at local bookstores nationwide.
