

CONTEST CORNER

Mini Could Win You A “Winnie”

(NAPS)—NASCAR fans across the country racing to tear into a package of Oreo cookies could win the consummate racing enthusiast's grand prize—a brand new 2001 Winnebago and tickets to see racing legend Dale Earnhardt tear up the track in pursuit of the checkered flag at a 2001 NASCAR race.

The national sweepstakes, sponsored by Nabisco to celebrate its affiliation with Earnhardt, begins February 12 and runs through April 30, 2001. Sweepstakes game pieces will be available in specially marked packages of Mini Oreo cookies. The grand prize game piece is worth a 2001 Winnebago 31C recreational vehicle, round-trip airfare, accommodations, tickets to a late-season NASCAR race to cheer on one of the sport's most successful and popular drivers, and the opportunity to meet “The Man in Black.”

Two hundred first prize winners will each receive tickets to catch NASCAR fever at a local race. One thousand second prize winners will each receive a die-cast replica Dale Earnhardt #3 miniature car, complete with the special-edition Oreo-logoed hood, just as it will appear on Earnhardt's vehicle in the 2001 season's inaugural race. For more information on this and other NASCAR programs, fans can visit www.nabiscoworld.com.

The grand prize winner of a new contest will receive what may be the ultimate racing fan experience.