Discover The Benefits Of Crafting This March

(NAPS)—Whether it's the satisfaction of making something with your own hands, the joy of giving a handmade gift or the important family time that working together allows, crafting can be cause for celebration.

Throughout March, craft stores will offer a variety of family- and child-friendly projects.

Throughout the month of March, which is National Craft Month, craft stores will be celebrating hands-on activities with special demonstrations, projects and events. In fact, each day will have a unique craft focus, from scrapbooking to florals to needlework, so there'll be something for everyone.

One day to mark on the calendar is March 24, 2001, "Look! I Made It Myself...A Kid's Craft Day." Craft retailers will offer a chance for children to participate in kid-friendly, hands-on events. Families won't want to miss out on fantastic contest opportunities, including the Look What I Won! contest. Consumers can enter at craft stores nationwide, with a chance to win the grand prize of a seven-day Disney Cruise.
