

newsworthy trends

Ten New Looks To Top This Season's Sunglass Trends

(NAPSA)—Have your eye on a new look? This season's most scintillating shades offer a new view on sunglass styles. The top ten sizzling sunglass looks include:

- Totally modern and fashionably futuristic shields and masks from Ralph Lauren and Christian Dior.

- Flash mirror lenses with just a hint of mirror from Christian Dior.

- A flashback to the 60s and everything retro with large over-size plastics that pay homage to Jackie O, from Kate Spade and Gucci.

- Semi-rimless shades without borders in cool tints from Gucci and Christian Dior.

- From violets and greens to yellows and blues, tinted lenses from Kate Spade and Gucci add newness and freshness to sunwear.

- Bi-gradient lenses by Ralph Lauren in a plethora of color combinations offer a little 80s retro mixed with modernism.

- Plastic wraps from Gucci and Carrera remain a mainstay and are available in the season's brightest fashion hues.

- The aviator from Ralph continues to soar in delicious fashion lens colors ranging from pinks and greens to blues and violets.

- A new breed of aviator called the updated aviator from Ralph Lauren and Diesel offer a unique touch of modernism.

- This season, it's okay to flaunt it and wear crystals during the day. Rhinestone-covered temples from Christian Dior and logo-encrusted lenses from Gucci epitomize 80s opulence.

Fashionably futuristic include these Ralph Lauren shields.

A bouquet of blue, violet and pink tinted shades from Kate Spade.

Flash mirror is the hottest trend in lens options by Christian Dior.

Bi-gradient color is hot, as in these lenses from Ralph.

Flashback to the 60s with these Kate Spade shades.

Updated aviators soar from Diesel.

Shades without borders from Gucci are totally rock star.

Flaunt it with rhinestone encrusted glasses from Christian Dior.