Tips For Finding Your Best Bathing Suit Style

(NAPSA)—If the beginning of the summer season brings visions of swimsuit fitting-room trauma, have no fear. There are more options than ever in swimwear. Here are six simple tips to make the most of your figure—and ensure that you are fashionably ready for fun in the sun:

1. Make the most of your assets. Focus on the positive. What is your best feature? Choose a cut that flatters that area and you will look and feel fabulous. Curvy and shapely figures look great in solid color one-pieces. Call attention to a great bust line with gorgeous bird-of-paradise floral V-neck tankini or an ombre color wash that draws the eye upwards.

2. Change your mind, change your suit. Your swimwear wardrobe should be versatile enough to wear while you're tanning poolside or playing beach volleyball. Catalina swimwear separates are priced under $20, so you can have a new suit for each activity.

3. Mix it up and get your perfect fit. If you like one bottom and another top, make your own personal suit! Try splashy, tropical prints and hot-hued solids that mix and match, so you get the perfect fitting top and bottom.

4. Don't sweat the size tag. The best fitting swimsuits are one size larger than your regular dress size. So ignore the tag, feel more comfortable and look better than ever this year.

5. A Slim Swim Classic—Starring You! A slimming, classic tank suit such as Catalina's "Every Body" ribbed one-piece makes anyone look like a star with shimmery fabric, vertical ribbing and a figure flattering cut.

6. Shop with a trusted friend or get expert advice. Swimwear pros at the Swim Fit Clinic at Wal-Mart stores will give you expert fitting assistance to help you pick the very best cut, color and overall design—like your best friend, even better!
