

Get This Look: Spring's Hottest Fashion Trends

(NAPSA)—As the days get longer and the weekends warmer, a lighter wardrobe is key. Let your imagination run wild with patterned tops, floral dresses and micro-mini skirts. Straight from the runway, who better than MTV's House of Style host, Molly Sims, to forecast this season's key trends.

"The looks are all about being modern, yet feminine," said Molly Sims. "I see about five key trends that can't be missed this season, and one place you can be sure to find them is Old Navy—they create hip styles for everyone everywhere all at a great value."

Get this look:

- Create Black Magic—Get into the mix with classic black and white. Check out Old Navy's sleeveless art deco wrap-front dress in a black and white ($32).

- Feminine Colors & Prints Reign Supreme—From sweet pastels to bold blue and white, florals are in full bloom. Look fresh in pastels and sporty cuts with feminine details like Old Navy's Pucci-inspired halters in pink or blue ($17.50–$19.50) or the one-shoulder tank available in turquoise blue, white, green, red or black ($8.50).

- Military-Inspired Rules—Khaki and military shades are turning up everywhere from well-tailored suits to cotton basics. Pair a camouflage jersey top with Old Navy's low-rise jeans ($28–$34) and top it off with their aviator shades with pink tinted lenses ($9.50).

- Don't Forget About the Unexpected Twist to Preppy Cool—Add some dash to classic cardigans and v-necks with Old Navy's double-striped ribbon belts ($7.50) and get the look with white leather sandals and neutral checks to create your look straight from The Official Preppy Handbook.

- Hit the Beach with the Hottest Swimwear—Cool off in hot looks like Old Navy's Hawaiian floral string bikini in red, purple and aqua combos (top: $10.50; bottom $10.50). Don't miss the matching Hawaiian print swim skirt ($19.50) and pick up a beach mat that wraps into a carrier in red and blue ($4.50).

To finish off your look, don't leave home without the perfect carryall like a printed canvas tote in striped or floral patterns with leather handles. Fashion is in the air, so get ready, get set, get shopping!
