

Indulgence + Romance + Time: A Recipe for Passion

(NAPSA)—When you need a break from everyday stress or are ready to spice up your relationship, the answer may be right at home. All you need to cook up a passionate evening is a willing partner and a little creativity.

Preparation

Start by indulging in a luxurious bubble bath, scented with passionate floral aromas to start. Apply a generous amount of self-indulgence — exfoliate, moisturize, give yourself a manicure and pedicure and don't forget to pamper legs with a close, smooth shave. The new Gillette for Women Passion Venus razor and Satin Care Floral Passion shave gel are recommended for best results. Passion Venus combines the advanced shaving technology of Gillette for Women Venus with a beautiful pink translucent handle — for the closest shave ever.

After your bath, play a relaxing CD as you dress and apply your makeup. When finished, move on to gathering the right ingredients.

Ingredients

To create the perfect passionate environment start with soft, warm candle light, add a roaring fire, fluffy pillows and soothing music. If food is part of your game plan, make it rich and sinful, in generous portions. Add a bottle of wine and one finely administered backrub and you're ready to start "cooking."

Instructions

Mix all ingredients together in one distraction-free environment with the partner of your choice. Enhance flavor with generous portions of stimulating conversation and laughter. Slowly add liberal amounts of flirtation. And remember—no short cuts! Passion is a dish that must be savored.
