A Hand Paint Test

(NAPSA)—Demonstrating that the 1000' SCOTT roll towel will dry more than double the number of hands as a 425' standard roll towel, children from the Meadowbrook School in Abington, Pa., gave it the "hand-paint" test. A case of the extra-long towel dries more than twice as many hands as a 425' roll towel—6,834 pairs compared to 3,022. A new Hydroflex technology enabled the company to increase the length of its longest towel—from 800 feet to 1000 feet—without increasing the roll diameter, making this the longest hard roll towel currently available.
