

GET ORGANIZED

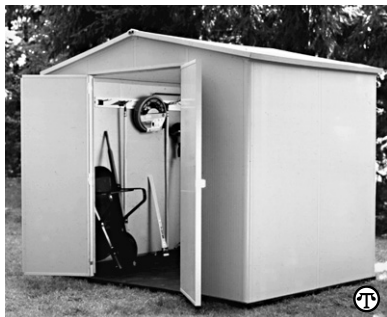

If You've Got Clutter...Shed It

(NAPSA)—Good news: You can get rid of clutter by shedding it. There are now a number of functional vinyl and resin products available that will help to simplify house chores and yard work. Here's what's around.

Heading the list are maintenance-free vinyl storage structures that can store all your yard and garden goods, including mowers, rakes, bicycles, tools, toys and supplies. Those from YardMate, for example:

- Never need painting, scraping or staining
- Will not rust, rot, dent, chip, chalk or fade
- Assemble in 1 to 2-1/2 hours
- Have rugged double-wall construction and slide-lock assembly
- Feature a sturdy composite floor that supports heavy loads without sagging
- Come with a ten-year warranty.

The vinyl sheds are available at home improvement and hard-

Easy-to-construct vinyl sheds provide extra storage.

A wide range of resin specialty products make organizing clutter a snap.

ware stores across the country. To learn more, visit www.chooseroyal.com/us.

Other clutter busters include a host of storage, organization and utility products made of virtually indestructible polypropylene. Available from Gracious Living, they make clutter a thing of the past and chores less chorelike!

For example, the Stocker series of "tower" storage features durable, polypropylene construction, easy-slide drawers and removable casters with a choice of deep or double-deep drawer models for easy, lightweight, organized storage.

Totes and caddies from Gracious Living are strong, durable and functional. The ProTote storage product features contoured handles for a comfortable grip and can be nested when empty or stacked when full.

Visit www.chooseroyal.com/us for more information or any hardware or household items store.