

CONTEST CORNER

Searching For America's Most Flawed Floor

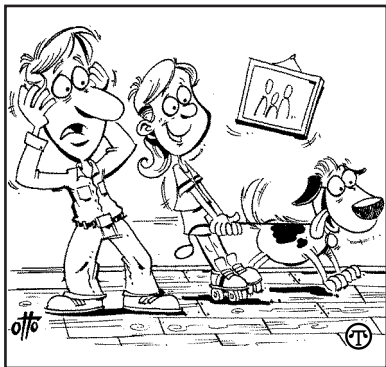

(NAPSA)—Great-looking wood floors are one of the best possessions a homeowner can have. According to market research conducted by Rust-Oleum®, there are 20 million homes in the United States with hardwood floors, and of those, 4.8 million have floors that need to be refinished.

In light of this, Varathane®, the top name in quality wood care products, is in search of the most flawed wood floor in America. The winner of America's Most Flawed Floor Contest will receive a professional floor refinishing using Varathane products and two floor-seat tickets to one of the hottest professional basketball games of the year.

According to Mark Boufford, Varathane brand manager at Rust-Oleum, "If you have wood floors that need to be refinished, you don't need to hire a professional to get professional results. It can cost a few thousand dollars to have your floors professionally done, and you can achieve the same results for about $250 using Varathane's premium wood care products."

Enter to Win

Varathane wants to hear from all homeowners who need to have

How bad is your wood floor?
Could it be the most flawed in America?

their floors refinished. For more information on the contest, official rules, and to enter online, visit varathane.com.

To enter by mail, include your first and last name, date of birth, address (including zip code), telephone number, color photograph of your wood floor and in 100 words or less explain, "Why this is the most flawed wood floor in America." Mail entry in a stamped envelope to: "America's Most Flawed Floor Contest," 200 E. Randolph Dr., 63rd Floor, Chicago, IL 60601. Entries must be post-marked by November 30, 2002.