Stylize Your Home With Decorative Window Grids

(NAPS)—With every curtain you hang and wall you paint, you're taking steps to personalize your home. Don't stop on the inside of the house. When replacing your windows, consider adding your personal touch to the entire home by selecting window grids.

Decorative and unique, window grids add elegance to the overall look of a home. "Grids are like artwork for your windows," says Cindy Dotson product and engineering specialist at Simonton Windows®. "With the vast selection of options available today, it's easy to customize your windows with a look that complements your home and lifestyle."

A leading manufacturer of vinyl new construction and replacement windows, Simonton Windows offers a wide variety of grid options. For a distinctly refined look, Shadow-Bevel Cut Glass in a Colonial pattern has deep, exquisite grooves etched right in the glass. "The grid patterns resemble cut glass crystal and are extremely popular with homeowners," says Dotson.

There are seven additional grid options available from Simonton Windows that are sandwiched between panes of glass for easy cleaning. Colonial Flat grids, in white and tan profiles, align perfectly with the glass for a close, flat look. Colonial Sculptured grids have more depth to the grids and are available in white, tan and brass. Distinctive Woodgrain

Sculptured brass grids on this low maintenance vinyl window add a touch of elegance to the home.

Colonial Sculptured grids also have depth and come in Honey Oak and Amber Oak so that homeowners can incorporate the look of wood into their homes. These popular grids are often matched with interior woodgrain window laminate finishings in similar wood tones. Some product lines also offer Diamond patterned grids in both flat tan, white and brass styles.
