Gentle, Natural Cleanser

(NAPSA)—One of the best ways to minimize the chore of spring cleaning is to eliminate unnecessary busywork, such as figuring out which cleansers are needed for each part of the project. That's why all-in-one cleansers are such a popular choice.

Look for a naturally gentle soap that can be used in every room of the house—on kitchen countertops, bathroom sinks and tubs, living room furniture and wood floors. A good all-purpose cleaner contains no harsh chemicals, making it safe on most surfaces. In addition, it cleans without leaving any residue.

A good one to try is Murphy Oil Soap. It has been used for 100 years to care for wood and other surfaces in the home. Today, it remains a popular, all-purpose cleanser with a scent that says "home." It is also used (and recommended) by Merry Maids, a leading home cleaning service.

Murphy's is available in the original formula, a spray for countertops, fixtures and furniture, and a "squirt and mop" bottle that's great for quickly cleaning wood floors.
