

Go Online _____

National Parks Scrapbook

(NAPSA)—Remember your last visit to a national park? What if the next time you visited, the wildlife was gone, the historic buildings had crumbled, or worse, it was all lost forever? If you think this can't happen, think again. Your national park experiences, and those of future generations, are in jeopardy because the parks don't have the money they need.

To help, share your photos and memories of the national parks in the new National Parks Scrapbook at www.americansfornationalparks.org. This could help to inspire legislators and all Americans to care for these majestic places.

More information about the critical needs of the national parks is available at www.americansfornationalparks.org or by calling 1-800-NAT-PARK.