

TIPS ON TRIPS

Mixing Business With Pleasure

(NAPSA)—Whether it's a family vacation, a meeting or a special event, more and more travelers say Central Florida is a great place to go for several reasons.

For one thing, Seminole County is conveniently located between Orlando and the Daytona-area beaches.

The historic ambiance, natural attractions and reasonable rates in Seminole County offer fun and savings to families planning a Central Florida vacation.

For another, the region offers an array of accommodations. From all-suite hotels to charming bed and breakfasts, there is something for everyone in every price range. Room rates are generally a third less than other Central Florida accommodations.

Then there's the fun. While Orlando is known for its world-famous attractions such as Walt Disney World, Seminole County is noted for its natural attractions. Slow, lazy rivers, cool forests and spectacular lakes combined with lush wooded areas, create a unique environment that offers a genuine get-away experience.

Putting on airs: Visitors enjoy a high-speed air boat ride on more than 2,000 lakes and waterways.

More Things to Do

- The historic districts of Sanford, Longwood and Oviedo as well as the world's largest flea market are full of trinkets and treasures for antique lovers.

- Make a date with "The Senator," the world's oldest and largest bald cypress tree towering more than 138 feet high and 17 feet around.

- The outdoor enthusiast can explore nature at its best with a lazy canoe trip, a high speed airboat ride or at the Central Florida Zoo.

- You will also find evening entertainment with a dinner and dancing cruise on the historic St. Johns River onboard the Rivership Romance riverboat tour.
