

American History In Wyoming Heartland

(NAPSA)—American history is littered with tales of the colorful cowboys, legendary lawmen and infamous villains who made the West so wild. And now it's possible to own a piece of history—affordable and easily accessible 40-acre ranches just minutes north of scenic Casper, Wyoming.

Capturing the true Western spirit and natural beauty of Wyoming, these homesteads are part of the sprawling, well-maintained B.B. Brooks Ranch—established in 1882 by one of the state's first governors, Bryant B. Brooks. In addition to the area's natural beauty, the state has no corporate, personal or inventory taxes, which makes these homestead sites all the more attractive.

The 40-acre homesteads start at $795 per acre, with low down payments and no-qualifying financing available. This prime ranch property is minutes from Casper, which was recently ranked the number-one small metro area for cost of doing business by Forbes magazine and boasts a wealth of natural, cultural and historic attractions.
