

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

Three Decades Of Fun

(NAPSA)—A fun-filled, fast-paced game that has delighted families for decades recently celebrated its 30th anniversary.

From top supermodels playing UNO at parties to popular singing group *NSYNC taking the game along with them on tour, UNO has been part of family vacations, slumber parties, friendly gatherings and road trips.

A fast-paced card game has been numero uno in many households for thirty years.

To celebrate three decades of fun, Mattel Games is releasing UNO 30th Anniversary Edition with specially-designed card graphics and cool packaging.

Since UNO was created in 1971 by Merle Robbins, a barbershop owner, more than 150 million UNO games have been sold worldwide, in more than 20 different languages. The classic, fast-paced game is easy to learn and fun to play. It's played by two or more players and the first to score 500 points wins the game.

Points are earned when the first player uses all of the cards in their hand. The points gained are based on the cards that the opponents are left holding.
