thousands. Among the most popular is the Carrera brand, with its adjustable magnetic traction control. This means racers don't have to be an expert to run these cars which come in a number of popular nameplates, including the legendary '67 Chevrolet Corvette Stingray.

The Carrera line, distributed by LGB in hobby shops and toy stores throughout America, recently introduced the Ford Mustang GT350 '66. This model features a variable magnet system, providing the driver the opportunity to alter the driving dynamics.

Collecting these cars, at 1:32 scale and 1:24 scale, is not just a hobby, but an extremely popular sport. Carrera is the only manufacturer in the world whose 1:24 Mega Tracks run both 1:32 and 1:24 scale cars.
