

HOLIDAY GIFT IDEAS

The Gift That Keeps On Giving

(NAPSA)—The best gifts may be the ones that entertain the entire family all year round.

Whether you want to entertain out-of-town relatives over the holidays with a classic movie night, go video gaming with kids or you're planning your next summer drive-in theater barbecue, digital projectors are on many wish lists.

A lightweight home entertainment projector shines crisp, clear images larger than any plasma onto a screen or bare wall up to 10 feet wide. Even better, it connects to nearly any home-electronics device including DVD players, satellite receivers, high-definition broadcast receivers, TVs, home video cameras, computers and video game consoles.

The four seasons of home entertainment might include:

Fall

Ready to Rumble—Catch every tackle, turnover and touchdown of "Monday Night Football" by transforming your living room into sideline seats during the NFL season with a home entertainment projector.

Winter

Lights, Camera, Action—Staying in on a blustery winter evening? Pop the popcorn, dim the lights and break out the DVDs because movie night is back with a vengeance and you've got the best seat in the house—your couch.

Spring

March Madness Mania—While clinging tightly to your team banner, follow the destiny of your favorite college hoops team through "The Big Dance" with a home theater projector.

Red Carpet Rendezvous—Invite friends over to watch the stars take center stage and vie for Hollywood's most prestigious awards.

A lightweight home entertainment projector shines crisp, clear images larger than any plasma onto a screen or bare wall up to 10 feet wide.

Summer

Return of the Drive-In—Create a drive-in theater by showing movies on the garage or side of the house with a home projector. Rent a new release or revisit an old classic and take advantage of the warm summer evenings and starry nights.

Kickin' It—Can't make it to Germany to watch the 2006 FIFA World Cup? A home entertainment projector can help create the effect of being in the center of the field in Munich, Stuttgart or Berlin.

The InFocus ScreenPlay 4805 projector produces crisp, bright, high-contrast images, which are optimal for the latest DVDs and HDTV. At less than eight pounds, the projector's design means it can be easily moved.

For more information, visit www.infocushome.com.