

Finding Shoppportunities On Seasonal Designer Trends

(NAPSA)—Fashionistas are revamping their wardrobes and stocking up on the season's must-have designer trends—and many are discovering they can do so without those designer price tags.

With budgets still tight, savvy shoppers are continuing to discover that off-price retailers like Marshalls offer fashionable, current-season merchandise at tremendous savings. Here are a few of the top trends:

Get Neutral: Banish those dark winter tones and embrace the softer side of spring with a neutral color palette. Try shoes, handbags, tops and even dresses in pinks, corals, tans and blush hues.

Pretty and Polished: Delicate details including lace, eyelets and ruffles are part of this feminine look. Flowing blouses and lightweight tops paired with pencil or tulip skirts make for a great office look. Draped or cascading cardigans are the perfect light layer over a strapless sundress. Wear a printed kimono with designer denim for a weekend look. Show off your girly side with a tissue-weight tee and a pair of paper bag-style waist shorts.

Utilitarian Chic: Get casual with cargo shorts and capris. Emerge from hibernation with a denim sundress or shirtdress layered with an adorned tank and bright accessories. Embrace the romper, a one-piece in shorts, or capris that are comfortable and versatile. Add a flouncy floral blouse to give the romper a feminine touch. Pair any of these looks with beaded sandals, ankle booties with a bit of cowboy flair or a cross-body messenger-style bag.

This season's top trends offer neutral colors, delicate details, slim leggings and designer clothes for less.

Keep it Classic: Mix the new trends with classic pieces like pencil skirts and tiered blouses.

Rocker Chic for Day and Night: Slim-fit leggings in denim, a fabric of choice this spring, coupled with a grommet-studded bomber jacket will make a statement at any daytime outing. For a night on the town, slip on a bandage dress and a handbag with chain accents in a muted metallic.

In the Swim: The one-piece is back with updates you won't be able to resist. Look for animal prints with one shoulder strap and hardware detail for an edgy style. Sundresses do double duty as beach cover-ups for that new, colorful tankini. Shopping off-price at Marshalls and snagging trendy buys for up to 60 percent off allows shoppers to get a few designer additions for less.
