Site Saves Companies Time And Money

(NAPSA)—A popular Web site provides a definitive, one-stop source to compliance assistance resources from federal regulatory agencies. According to a recent survey, the one-stop site named Business.gov saves companies both time and money on their business operations:

Businesses now have an online resource for finding information on federal compliance and other governmental regulations.

- 72 percent of the visitors report that the Web site saved them time by providing all the compliance resources they needed at one site. 55 percent said the site's information saved them up to 10 hours and nearly 11 percent said it saved between 11 and 25 hours.

- 49 percent report that visiting Business.gov saved them money, and half of those reported savings up to $250 with the information they obtained from the site.

Business.gov, the official business link to the U.S. government, is managed by the U.S. Small Business Administration in a partnership with 21 other federal agencies. To learn more, visit www.business.gov.
