

MAKING LIFE MORE FUN

Game Browser

(NAPSA)—As video games continue to be red-hot (and expensive) items, it's nice to know that there are bargains to be found online.

One example is a next-generation online game browser and messaging program that is completely free. Designed to help gamers find each other online and chat while doing so, Verizon PlayLinc is fast becoming the preferred way to play online, thanks to such innovative features as:

A new online gaming browser enables video game players to find and communicate with one another.

- Free voice-over IP so you can talk with up to 32 of your friends at the same time, anytime.

- Integrated AOL/ICQ Instant Messenger so you can easily find your friends online and invite them to play.

- Access VoIP and IM functions from inside your game.

- Manage your teams and track the members' performances across multiple games.

- Free Hosted Gaming Servers—Set up your own private server and invite only the people you want to play with.

- Virtual Gaming Network—Create a virtual private network and play with your friends who are anywhere, as if you're on a local area network.
