Italy: Hit The Highlights

(NAPSA)—If you're going to Italy for the first time, or if you'll just be there for a few days, how do you decide where to go?

Answer: Hit the highlights. That's the advice from travel experts at Pleasant Holidays. If you begin with Rome, you can say buon giorno to the Colosseum, then toss a coin into the Trevi Fountain before dining in a quaint café. One way to be sure you see everything is to immerse yourself in the Italian culture with the "Best of Rome" tour.

Be sure to hit the highlights on your first trip to Italy.

When you travel to Florence, Tuscany's capital, take in the gorgeous countryside and historic wineries with a Chianti Wine & Hill Towns tour, a sheer delight for every traveler.

The next "must see" is the watery city of Venice, home to the Grand Canal, gondoliers, St. Mark's Basilica and many of the world's finest art museums.

Whether it's a few days or a few weeks before you finally say arrivederci, vacation travel experts can assist you in creating an itinerary that will make the most of your vacation down to every detail. For more tips, visit PleasantHolidays.com.
