The Holiday Gift Guide You Don’t Want To Miss: A Book For Every Member Of The Family

(NAPS)—Good news for last-minute shoppers: You can give the gift of reading this year. A book is truly a gift that keeps on giving, and to make giving books easier than ever, Shadow Mountain Publishing has created a book gift guide for every member of your family.

For Mom: "Six Ingredients with Six Sisters' Stuff" has over 100 fast and easy meals including kid-approved recipes. Foreword Reviews says "The shortcut-approach is a godsend." Regardless whether Mom is or isn’t the family cook, she can enjoy escaping into a sweet romance such as "The Lady and the Highwayman" by Sarah M. Eden or a cozy, culinary mystery, "The Candy Cane Caper" by Josi S. Kilpack this holiday season.

For Dad: If Dad wants to learn from the wise men, there may be no better wise man to learn from than Bill Marriott. At https://shadowmountain.com/marrriott/, you can get a biography of the man who started with a root beer stand and built the largest hotel chain in the world.

For the boys: Send them on an adventure to fight a sea dragon in the "Dragonwatch" series, the sequel series to "Fablehaven" by New York Times best-selling author Brandon Mull. For younger boys who love monsters, grab Brandon's picture book, "Smarter Than a Monster."

For the girls: Whether they’re 13 or 30, there’s a book to delight the girls and young women in your life. "Glass Slippers, Ever After & Me" by Julie Wright, is a modern, re-imagined Cinderella story. If Steampunk is her thing, try "The Lady in the Coppergate Tower," a clever riff on the Rapunzel story. For the younger girls in the family, there’s "The Christmas Doll," which will put a smile on their faces while teaching a valuable life lesson.

For a friend or the religious: "The Last Man at the Inn: One Man’s Quest to Believe" is the story of a journey of conversion many take in one form or another. It’s a call-out to those who may not even know they’re looking for something, only that there’s a space in their soul that somehow needs to be filled.

All these titles are available for two-day prime shipping on Amazon, or at Barnes & Noble stores.

Did You Know?

Good news for last-minute shoppers: You can give the gift of reading this year. A book is truly a gift that keeps on giving and Shadow Mountain Publishing’s vast selection, at https://shadowmountain.com, can make giving books easier than ever.

Lead-in copy for online posting

Good news for last-minute shoppers: You can give the gift of reading this year. /\ The Holiday Gift Guide You Don’t Want To Miss: A Book For Every Member Of The Family

Twitter feed copy

Good news for last-minute shoppers: You can give the gift of reading. A book is truly a gift that keeps on giving. #dad #mom #boys #girls #holiday #wise man #biography #adventure #cookbook #romance #mystery #monster #doll #religious #friend #soul

Tag words

shoppers, gift, reading, book, dad, mom, boys, girls, holiday, wise man, biography, adventure, cookbook, romance, mystery, monster, doll, religious, friend, soul

Tweet This

Good news for last-minute shoppers: You can give the gift of reading this year. A book is truly a gift that keeps on giving and Shadow Mountain Publishing’s vast selection can make giving books easier than ever.

Google Search Ad

shoppers, gift, reading, book, dad, mom, boys, girls, holiday, wise man, biography, adventure, cookbook, romance, mystery, monster, doll, religious, friend, soul

Outbrain Native Ad

The holiday gift guide you don’t want to miss: A book for every member of the family / https://shadowmountain.com // www.napress.com