

Did You Know?

One of the most important ways parents can protect their kids is with vaccination. For example, HPV vaccination is given when kids are about 11-12 years old; it protects them from the HPV virus that can cause cancers later in life. Learn more at www.cdc.gov/HPV.