

Get to Know CVS Pharmacy: A Community Partner in Health and Everyday Wellness

(NAPS)—As Idaho communities adapt to changes in the pharmacy landscape, particularly as Rite Aid begins to close its doors, many are discovering a trusted partner in CVS Pharmacy. With more than 60 years of serving customers and patients, CVS Pharmacy has grown into America's largest national pharmacy while still maintaining local connections, with more than 9,000 community-based locations.

A Legacy of Care and Convenience

CVS Pharmacy has a long-standing commitment to supporting the local community. Whether managing chronic health conditions, offering relief from seasonal colds or allergies, having the beauty essentials you need before a big event or being the place where you can grab that last-minute gift, CVS Pharmacy is focused on providing what you need to help you get and stay healthy, celebrate life's moments and serve as a convenient neighborhood destination you can rely on.

An Expanded Role for Pharmacists

CVS pharmacists do more than ever to support community health. In addition to filling prescriptions, they offer personalized guidance on managing your medications, help you save money on your prescriptions, administer vaccines and, in select states, they can prescribe certain medications. They're an accessible, trusted resource who can help you navigate your health with confidence and convenience.

Everyday Essentials, Personalized for You

The products CVS Pharmacy carries across the store aren't just about convenience; they're an extension of its role as a trusted community destination. Each store curates its product selection to reflect the needs of the local community, with a mix of trusted national and store brands that offer value without compromising quality.

Personalization is at the center of what CVS Pharmacy does. With more than 74 million members in its free ExtraCare® loyalty program, you get access to personalized deals, ExtraBucks® rewards and even more savings with ExtraCare Plus™, including free same-day delivery and other monthly perks.

Purpose in Every Aisle

CVS Pharmacy also sets itself apart through purpose-driven initiatives that reflect a commitment to doing what's right, not just what's profitable.

In 2014, it made national headlines by removing tobacco products from its shelves, becoming the first and only major pharmacy chain to take a stand against tobacco use. Since then, it's continued to prioritize customer and community health in meaningful ways.

As another example, CVS has led the way with an industry-leading "Beauty Unaltered" commitment that promotes transparency and self-confidence by only featuring digitally unaltered beauty images to represent beauty as it truly

Your pharmacist can help you feel your best.
